Tweeting

Monday 25 May 2009 00:12

I’m still not using twitter. So I’m certainly not tweeting to hard. On IRC you know the other guys are probably in their basement using their computer so that’s the context to interpret their attempts at being funny, so most of the times it works. On twitter you don’t know if it’s that context or some douchebag seriously tweeting using his iPhone from his yacht. That can’t be funny.
