Before you go all PIRATEN, they are not the only party against it. They seem to be the only party paranoid enough to extrapolate everything to their single issue however. I mean, with a petition supported by 130k, FDP, Die Linke and a lot of GrÃ¼nen on your side, what do they expect of their demo? It will probably just make it look like the 130k were a bunch of flag waving–happy spotty teenagers only interested in illegal downloads. With friends like that, who needs enemies?
