Heute Journal Prairie

Ok, they zoom in later – it's not that retarded – but I still don't like what they did to the setting. The top vanishes into something I don't know what it's supposed to be. Some kind of sky that covers the whole thing with a set of continent shaped clouds from whatever they're smoking, or a huge concrete wall? Where's the light coming from? Of course they can fake a lot of this stuff, but it's not really working if the result is a bit spooky.
