Osterfeuer II

Sunday 12 April 2009 01:12

The christmas trees we spoke of earlier were ready to go Saturday at 21:00. Assembled more into a sort of tower than just a pile, when lit it was an impressive fire. Lighting the surroundings in an orange glow and radiating heat to hundreds of people. Above is the Blankeneser feuer, below the next one upstream at MÃ¼hlenberg.

The smoke all over town makes me nauseous though.
