Kartell Flagshipstore im stilwerk Hamburg

Wednesday 3 June 2009 18:12

I knew there was some design and lifestyle activity going on around the Fischmarkt, but only after I cycled passed the Stilwerk this week I noticed some design that looked like a La Marie von Philippe Starck couldn't be far off. I didn't want to wait for two hours for the store to open, but I wondered why I hadn't noticed that stuff there before. Well, probably because it wasn't there before. Still haven't decided what colors to buy though... I don't think they have a uranium glass version.

by Roland van Ipenburg
http://www.xs4all.nl/~ipenburg/blog/posts/play/2009/06/03/kartell−flagshipstore−im−stilwerk−hamburg/